Make No Mistake

On my desk is a tragic letter with a plea that it be printed in the hope that the person about whom she writes may read it and understand the situation. For certain reasons it can not be used, but I can tell you the main points of this letter. You start of course with romance, for this is the dream of every young normal girl in our country. She sort of day dreams and hopes that somewhere her Prince Charming will ride on his white charger and rescuer and then they will know it is love at first sight.

Before she met HIM she knew all about him because friends had described him to her. Then when she went to the dance she was able to pick him out at once. But he seemed quite indifferent to her. Perhaps this was the basic situation — when a man seems unattainable to a girl she often makes up her mind to get him, not so much because she is in love with him as because it becomes a challenge to her abilities. Let me say that the same goes for the male. The girl who turns him down and in fact even snubs him sort of arouses within him the desire to conquer her.

Came the great day when he asked her out for a date. Now it was her turn to play the same game with him and show that she was "hard to get". She broke several dates, but that didn't discourage HIM! Now he was angry and determined to take her out even if he had to keep on for months having her give him the stand-up. But finally she kept her date and they went out.

Then they told each other that this was the one and only true love. They were meant for each other and nothing was going to stand in the way. Each succeeding day only told them how much they were in love with each other. This was a sort of a fairyland where the unreality seems to look like the real. This was the great love that was going to conquer any and every obstacle in its path. They became engaged.

She could hardly wait to marry him. He was in Uncle Sam's service and then came a change of orders. The marriage took place earlier than planned. There was no parental opposition and mother felt and hoped that her daughter would be happy. Then suddenly she found herself stepping into the land of reality. He had to travel around and she had to go with him. She was what is known as "an army wife". You stay in one place for a time and just when you think you are about settled and making friends, the orders come to move to another place. Then comes the hunt for suitable quarters.

At the same time she had to make her adjustment to the man she married and take on the responsibilities of a wife. Then differences began to appear on the horizon. When you are in the land of romances it seems there are no clouds or differences. The two are as one. Now it turns out that the male has viewpoints, tastes, and opinions which are not the same as hers. It takes maturity to work out the problems that arise because of this.

The quarrels increased and then she felt she wanted a separation. Sometimes a separation is but a prelude to a divorce, other times it serves as a thinking period so that the parties concerned can see the situation clearly and then be reconciled. On the other hand there is a terrible danger on the horizon when people do separate. One party may feel that he or she got a "raw deal". There is anger in the heart and the reasoning power just doesn't work. This is what happened to her. On the horizon appeared another man. She should have realized she was still married and a wife.

He claimed he loved her so very much. He only wanted to make her happy. She started to believe him, but then she sort of had the feeling that everything was starting to turn into one big mess. The only sensible thing was to go back to her husband and make every effort to see that the marriage succeeded. The other man made threats. Here was a big mistake on her part. She should have gone to the authorities and explained the entire situation, but she became scared. She did not want to tell her husband about the threats.

So now she is alone with only her memories. Her hopes are that this will be a lesson to those in love, and that her husband will forgive her. Now please do not misunderstand me when I say that there is nothing new in this situation. It has been repeated so many times that it would be impossible to give you correct statistics on the number of females who have made the same mistake as our poor young bride.

However it is well to bear in mind that when this situation does arise the young bride doesn't realize how it will end. When she packs up her valises and and shouts, "I am going back to mother," she doesn't quite see that is neither the end or the solution to the situation. When it is all over she may sob and say, "How did I ever permit all of this to happen? Because I really love my husband so much!"

If we are going to learn anything from what happened to this unfortunate young wife we must see that there is a basic situation in marriages of this kind which can lead to so much unhappiness. Either the female, the male, or both are not fully prepared for the complete responsibilities of married life. They may not be prepared for either of two reasons: first, because they do not understand what the responsibilities are; and second, because they do not have the maturity to handle these responsibilities. There is a close connection between the two.

Let us go back to our young wife and see the situation as it applies to her and others like her. There is the basic emotional element present. They "know" they are in love with each other. The moon in the sky cooperates. They are in each other's arms kissing and feeling this will go on forever. They go out to dances and parties. They even meet others who are in the same situation. But just what has this to do with facing the realities of being married? They have been brought together and that is important. But can the two of them make a suitable married life with each other? This is the real point at issue. If not, then the marriage is a mistake.

Janet met Frank almost the same way in which our young bride met her husband. Frank was also an army man. He wanted the army to be his career. He loved Janet "so very much", but he was well aware of the situations that would arise when the two were married. So he suggested that Janet and her mother come to the camp where he was stationed to get some idea of what their married life would be. He would introduce her to some of the married women there and they could talk together. Now Janet's mother had enough maturity to see that this was an excellent idea.

Janet was able to see exactly what was ahead of her. One woman talked about how close to the budget they had to live. Another talked about the worried concern when the husband had a dangerous assignment. Another told her of the difficulties involved in raising a family in "cramped quarters". It wasn't too pleasant a picture. There were going to be hardships ahead.

"I love you so very much," she told Frank. "Come what may I think the two of us can face problems together."

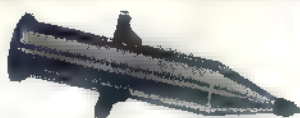

But at least now she knew what was to be faced. And apparently she did have the maturity to handle the situations that would arise. The last I heard of them was when I sent Janet a present for her little baby. Now make no mistake about my feelings. I am really a romanticist at heart. I would like to see everyone in love and happy. But there are many problems to be faced and unless they are recognized and handled intelligently there will be trouble.

My views about the moral and religious aspects of marriage are well known. I accept as fundamental that marriage is a holy relationship and that it is for keeps. There is no divorce in my way of thinking, which is not exactly the way many young people think today. Their attitude is that if they can't make a go out of that particular marriage, they will break it up. When difficult situations arise, then the fighting starts and that particular marriage is headed for the rocks. But if you take the attitude that the marriage must be kept going, then the two look for a solution to the difficulty. And you want to know something? It can be found if there is the will and desire to find it.

I am so terribly sorry for that wife that wrote that letter. Here is another lesson to be learned from what happened to her. The young wife may get all excited over a situation. It may look to her like a matter of life-or-death. But later when she cools down she may feel a bit sheepish. In its proper perspective it wasn't important and certainly not worth while fighting about. Each fight between a husband and wife makes it easier for the next fight to take place. Happiness in married life isn't handed to one on a silver tray. It must be earned.

FIRST KISS

THAT NIGHT...

HAROLD HASN'T TOLD ME HE LOVES ME...BUT I KNOW HE DOES! WHY ELSE WOULD HE WANT ME TO STOP DATING OTHER BOYS?

JUST IMAGINE...SOMEDAY I MIGHT EVEN BE MRS. HAROLD VICKERS...

FOR SEVERAL WEEKS, I WAS WALKING ON AIR... THEN IT HAPPENED! OR, I SHOULD SAY, NOTHING HAPPENED! FOR, SUDDENLY, WITHOUT ANY EXPLANATION, HAROLD STOPPED PHONING ME... AND HE COULD NEVER FIND TIME TO TALK TO ME AT SCHOOL...AS IF HE WERE PURPOSELY AVOIDING ME!

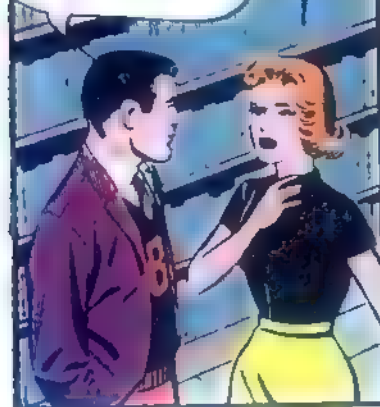

I-I CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT! HAROLD IS TREATING ME AS THOUGH I CEASED TO EXIST...

ONE DAY, I MANAGED TO CORNER HAROLD IN THE SCHOOL LIBRARY! I HAD TO FIND OUT WHY HE HAD DROPPED ME OUT OF HIS LIFE...AND THE ANSWER I RECEIVED WAS LIKE BEING SLAPPED ACROSS THE FACE WITH A COLD TOWEL...

WHY HAVE I BEEN IGNORING YOU? THAT'S EASY TO ANSWER... BECAUSE I'VE FOUND SOMEONE ELSE I LIKE BETTER... THAT'S WHY!

B-BUT I THOUGHT YOU LOVED ME! I-I...

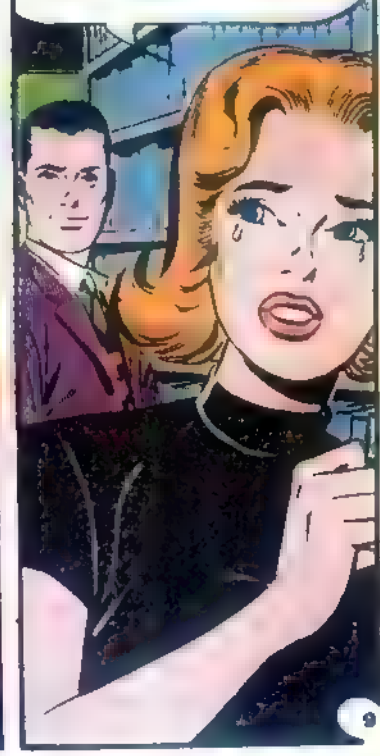

LOVED YOU? OH, COME ON, AUDREY! ALL I WANTED OUT OF YOU WAS A FEW LAUGHS... AND I ASSUMED YOU WERE LOOKING FOR THE SAME THING! ESPECIALLY AFTER YOU PULLED THAT CORNY SPRAINED ANKLE ROUTINE!

B-BUT I DID THAT BECAUSE I WANTED TO MEET YOU! AND THEN, WHEN I GOT TO KNOW YOU, I...

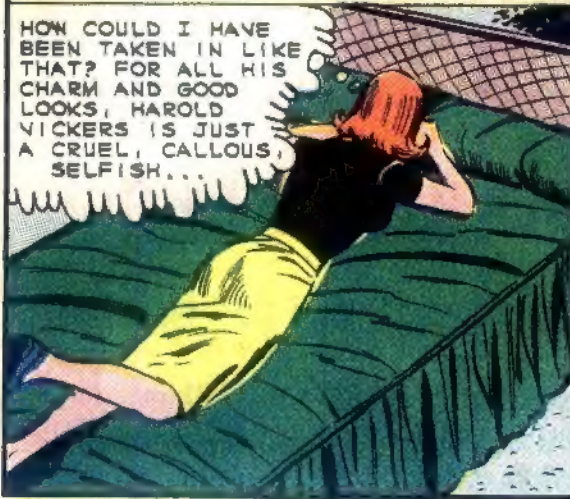

OH, NEVER MIND! I CAN SEE THAT YOU'RE NOT AT ALL INTERESTED IN HOW I FEEL!

CHARLTON COMICS GIVE YOU MORE!

I'D NEVER BEEN SO MISERABLE...SO ALONE...IN ALL MY LIFE!

HOW COULD I HAVE BEEN TAKEN IN LIKE THAT? FOR ALL HIS CHARM AND GOOD LOOKS, HAROLD VICKERS IS JUST A CRUEL, CALLOUS, SELFISH...

...BUT I HAVEN'T BEEN ANY LESS SELFISH IN THE WAY I'VE TREATED SHERMAN! HE WAS SO SINCERE AND PATIENT WITH ME...BUT I WOULDN'T LISTEN TO HIM! I...OH, THERE'S THE PHONE...

THE VOICE ON THE OTHER END WAS WARM AND FRIENDLY...AND CAUSED A PANG OF GUILT TO GNAW AT MY HEART...

SHERMAN!...I-IT'S SO GOOD TO HEAR YOUR VOICE! CAN YOU COME RIGHT OVER? I MUST TALK TO YOU!

I FELT LIKE THROWING MYSELF AT SHERMAN'S FEET AND BEGGING HIS FORGIVENESS... BUT ONE LOOK AT HIS EYES TOLD ME THAT WOULDN'T BE NECESSARY...

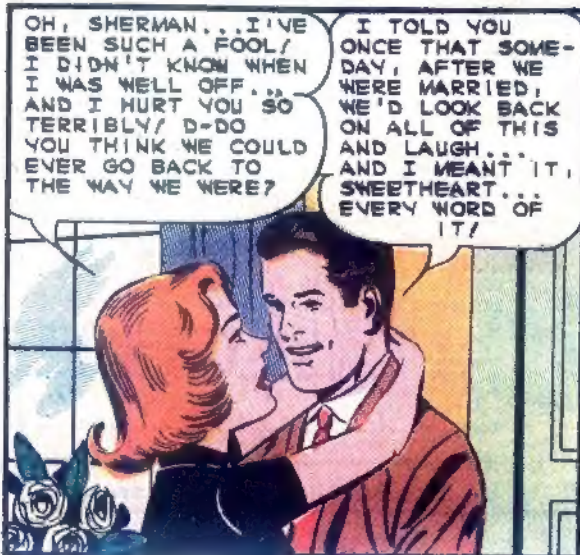

H-HELLO, SHERM! HOW'VE YOU BEEN?

JUST FINE, DOLL! I, ER, BROUGHT YOU SOME TAFFY...YOUR FAVORITE KIND...

OH, SHERMAN...I'VE BEEN SUCH A FOOL! I DIDN'T KNOW WHEN I WAS WELL OFF... AND I HURT YOU SO TERRIBLY! D-DO YOU THINK WE COULD EVER GO BACK TO THE WAY WE WERE?

I TOLD YOU ONCE THAT SOMEDAY, AFTER WE WERE MARRIED, WE'D LOOK BACK ON ALL OF THIS AND LAUGH... AND I MEANT IT, SWEETHEART... EVERY WORD OF IT!

Look at your figure in the mirror, notice the drooping abdomen — the slouched appearance, the flabby waistline.

AFTER
Now put on Tummy-Slim and notice the difference. Stomach is flattened — waistline taken in — appearance slenderized. You look and feel better.
